At DePaul, Joe served on the Student Bar Association as the Dean's Advisory Council Chair and was Co-Editor of the school paper, the Cause of Action.

Mr. Homsy is licensed before the Supreme Courts of Illinois, Iowa, and Wisconsin, and before the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois. Throughout his career, Joe has represented businesses and various insurance companies in different practice areas, including product liability, toxic tort defense, trucking defense, employment law, commercial disputes, insurance defense, and fire loss litigation. Joe partners with his clients and focuses on providing them with preventative advice and counsel that is meant to protect them in an effort to help them grow and build their businesses. He also works on reaching efficient and effective resolutions during pre-suit, and in-suit, claims.

Joe takes the phrase "pay it forward" to heart and acts on it when he can. He has been blessed with great mentors throughout his life and he strives to do the same for others. He has served as a mentor to high-school, college, and law students, as well as ALG's law clerks and new associates. Moreover, he is heavily involved in the Arab American Bar Association of Illinois ("AABAR"), currently serving as its Corresponding Secretary – the public relations role. Joe has also served as the Co-Chair of AABAR's Community Service Committee, during which he organized its Annual Thanksgiving Meal Drive and its Annual Back-to-School Backpack Drive.

Outside of his work, Joe's interests include spending time with his wife and family, traveling, photography, cheering on Liverpool F.C. (YNWA), and baseball. He also serves as the Executive Producer of the Non-Billable Hour Podcast, which is hosted by ALG's two partners, Daniel J. Arnett and Bethany N. White.
